Introduction

The words 'spirit' and 'soul' have no significant difference in usage in the Bible. Some argue that they are interchangeable. However, from a perspective of Hebrew language, it shows that both come from distinct primitive roots and they are essentially different in concept.

About 'Spirit'

The Hebrew word 'spirit' (רוח) first appears in Genesis,

"והארץ היתה תהו ובוהו וחשך על־פני תהום ורוח אלהים מרחפת על־פני המים:" (Gen1:2),
"Now the earth was formless and empty, darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God was hovering over the waters." (Gen1:2 NIV)

which can be divided into three sections (a, b and c):

"והארץ היתה תהו ובוהו" (Gen1:2 a)

Now the earth was formless and empty

"וחשך על־פני תהום" (Gen1:2 b)

darkness was over the surface of the deep

"וּרוּחַ אֱלֹהִים מְרַחֶפֶת עַל־פְּנֵי הַמַּיִם:" (Gen1:2 c) and the Spirit of God was hovering over the waters.

Analysis

1. In section (b) and (c), four elements are mutual comparative. The pair of ‘darkness’ with ‘deep/abyss’ is parallel to the pair of ‘spirit of God’ with ‘water.’ The ‘darkness’ is opposite to ‘spirit of God;’ the ‘deep/sea/abyss’ is opposite to ‘water.’
2. The noun ‘spirit’ has an attributive adjectives ‘Elohim,’ which means ‘spirit’ can be of God or Satan (against God). There is a tendency that the spirit of God is written as ‘Spirit’ (or the holy spirit) and the spirit of Satan is translated as ‘ghost.’ The spirit of God that is opposite to ‘darkness’ can also be literally represented as the ‘light of the world’ who is Jesus Christ.
3. The spirit of God hovering over water (Gen1:2c) and ‘darkness’ over the ‘deep’ (Gen1:2b) refers to Jesus walking over water at night between 1-3AM, the darkest period in a day (Mat14:25, Mark6:48). Gen1:2(b, c) shows that the ‘spirit’ initially refers to the triune spirit.
4. Two types of spirits can also refer to two types of ‘heavens’ (in plural form) that has day and night rather than layers. "God saw that the light was good, and he separated the light from the darkness. God called the light ‘day,’ and the darkness he called ‘night.’ And there was evening, and there was morning - the first day." (Gen1:4-5 NIV)

About ‘Soul’

The Hebrew word ‘soul (נֶפֶשׁ)’ first appears in Genesis,

"וַיֵּצֵר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת-הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן-הָאֲדָמָה וַיִּנְפַח בְּאַפָּיו נְשָׁמַת חַיִּים וַיְהִי הָאָדָם לְנֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה: " (Gen2:7)
 "the Lord God formed the man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and the man became a living being." (Gen2:7 NIV)

which can be divided into three sections (a, b and c):

"וַיֵּצֵר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת-הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן-הָאֲדָמָה " (Gen2:7a)

the Lord God formed the man from the dust of the ground

"וַיִּנְפַח בְּאַפָּיו נְשָׁמַת חַיִּים " (Gen2:7b)

breathed into his nostrils the breath of life

"וַיְהִי הָאָדָם לְנֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה: " (Gen2:7c)

and the man became a living being.

Conclusion

1. In Hebrew, ‘spirit’ (רוּחַ ruah) and ‘soul’ (נָפֶשׁ nafesh) come from distinct primitive roots. The essential difference between them is that ‘soul’ is created by God during the process of creation with dust through breath related to the travail of woman. Whereas ‘spirit’ eternally exists in the beginning with triune God (Gen1:2).
2. Spirit can be of two kinds: the spirit of God referring to the holy or triune spirit (Spirit), representing light or day, and the evil spirit that tends to be translated as ‘ghost’ in English, representing the darkness or night. To God, the darkness is as light. (Psa139:12)
3. Although spirit belongs to God in heaven and soul belongs to its individual on earth, both are closely associated with life, related to mind, thoughts, heart or emotions, and belong to the invisible spiritual world rather than the physical materials.
4. The Hebrew Scripture shows that when Adam was initially created, he had soul but without the holy spirit (Gen2:7). It could be a reason that God said that it is not good for Adam to live alone (Gen2:18). Although God gave Adam a woman, God did not give him the holy spirit until Jesus came into the world. Today, man can freely accept the triune spirit to satisfy his soul with the living water. It is because of His grace and mercy.
